CHIMNEY PLANT WILL OBSERVE BRIEF VACATION

Lively Business Conditions Means Only Two Days July Shutdown

Today the Macbeth-Evans Glass factory closed for the Fourth of July vacation, which this year, owing to pressure of business will be only two days, Monday and Tusday. The tank department will be closed for some time, owing to repairs which it is necessary to make there. It is expected that the Macbeth-Evans plant will run the entire summer. Repairs in the tank department will be completed within a few weeks. The close down will give the employes a chance to take a brief vacation.

TENER IN PITTSBURG

Governor There to Attend Athletic Event and Enjoy Himself

NO SHOP TALK FOR HIM

Governor J. K.Tener is in Pittsburg at the Fort Pitt. He registered last night in company with his secretary Walter H. Gaither and Mrs. Gaither and will today be the guest of Colonel O. S. Hershmann, one of his staff officers at the athletic games at Forbes Field.

When the Governor arrived in Pittsburg last night the hotel people began to prepare a Gubernatorial feed but the Executive eye caught sight of a little informal gathering in the Dutch room that changed to some extent the hotel's culinary program. That is to say, the Governor saw Representative George E. Alter of the Northside about to preside over a dinner party. Mr. Alter's guests were Senator David Hunter, Secreatry of the Commonwealth Robert McAfee, Representative Wiliam J. Connor of Braddock and Warden John Francis of Riverside.

Would the Governor sit in? He would and he did—at the head of the table, by the way, with W. H. Gaither at his left. The Governor was as full of fun as a recess class. He denied instanter that he was going to put the shot at the Forbes Field meet, nor was he going to hurl the javelin; neither was he going to run in any of the dashes. "Politics?" Well, he had heard that word before; but what has politics to do with a half dozen men rushing for the 100-yard tape? he asked.

No, the Governor said that he was in Pittsburg on a social visit and nothing more. There will be no conferences, he said; no powwows, no "shop talk" of any sort. On Sunday he will probably visit his brother, George E. Tener of Sewickley. After this visit he will likely take the first train going East.

M'ILVAINE IS BOOMED

President Judge Mentioned as President of Morganza Board

HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

Was Established and Opened for Inmates in the Early Fifties

With the re-appoinment of Judge J. A. McIlvaine on the board of managers of the Western Pennsylvania Industrial School at Moranza a movement has been started by some of his friends to have him elected president of the board inasmuch as the former president,, Major Happer, was not reappointed. Judge McIlvaine, however, does not seek this honor himself, and before the reappointment by Governor Tener he wrote the Governor asking that his name be omitted when the new board was appointed. Judge McIlvaine was a member of the old board, having been appointed several years ago by Governor Stuart. Governor Tener, however replied to Judge McIlvaine that he must not think of quitting the board, and that he had no intention of letting him go at this time as his presence was needed on the board of school managers.

Ever since his appointment by Governor Stuart Judge McIlvaine has taken a deep interest in the Industrial Training School at Morganza, and has established a record by never being absent from any of its meetings regular or special. It was the deep interest that Judge McIlvaine manifested in the institution, and the willingness with which he devoted his time to the many arduous duties connected with the management of the school that has prompted his friends to call attention to him as the proper man to head the new board. They are confident that he would fill the place with honor and distinction. A meeting for reorganization will probably be held the first Monday in July.

The House of Refuge of Western Pennsylvania was incorporated Act of April 22, 1850, and located in Allegheny City. It opened for inmates December 13, 1854. The name was changed to the Pennsylvania Reform School by the Act of March 20, 1872, and December 12, 1876, the institution was removed to its present location the old Morgan estate. Only recently the word "reform' 'was dropped from the official title of this institution owing to its misconception by many people and the title changed to "Western Pennsylvania Industrial School." The title to the institution was transferred to the State of Pennsylvania October 3, 1878, and the buildings cost $599.019.43. The expenditures in 1908 were $157,012.91 and the earnings were $11,379.11.

W. F. Penn is superintendent of the institution, having been elected last April for a term of one year. He has been superintendent for several years.

Fire Left Untouched Bills Secreted in Wrecked Store

When Phillip Nicholas was cleaning away wreckage caused by fire at his store on Fallowfield avenue between Third and Fourth streets, Friday afternoon he discovered $22 in bills, which had been practically untouched by the flames. The bills were laid in such a manner that the fire did not get to them in spite of the fact that they were where the flames raged hottest. Another sum in bills amounting to about $30 was burned.

PITTSBURG STEEL COMPANY TO STOP WORK TWO WEEKS

Brief Suspension of Monessen Plant During Hot Summer Weather

The anouncement coming officially from General George Nash relative to the summer vacation of the Pittsburg Steel mills at Monessen is to the effect that the shut down will be of a very short duration. Notices were posted in the mill Friday to the effect that the mill will close in all departments on July 1st. The open hearth department will start up on the morning of July 10th and all other departments will follow.

This will likely be the only vacation employes of this industry will get during the summer. It has been the custom to close the mill from two to four weeks during the hot months but this year it will be cut short and all departments will be kept running through the summer.

BLAZE HARD TO BATTLE

Fire This Morning Only Inflicts Slight Damage

FIREMEN DO HARD WORK

When at 11 o'clock this morning flames were discovered issuing from the windows of the dwelling house occupied by Jacob Schwartz at 505 Seventh street, the firemenwere called upon to fight one of the most tedious although not dangerous fires they have had experience with for some time. The building is owned by Andrew Clavir of East Pittsburg. Damage all told probably will not be more than $100 or $125, the most of which will be to the interior of the building. Insurance was carried by Mr. Clavier and Mr. Schwartz had insurance on his furniture.

The fire was a tedious one to fight owing to the fact that it was confined to the partitions and walls, where access could not be easily gained. It was not hard to control and chemicals were used entirely to extinguish the blaze.

LAMB PASSOVER TO BE OBSERVED

Uuique Custom to be Fallowed at Campmeeting This Month

Beginning the second Sunday in July campmeeting will be held at the Belle Vernon Driving Park by colored people, and a rather sensational feature, a "Lamb Passover," is promised. The campmeeting will last from the second Sunday in July until July 16 inclusive.

The Lamb Passover will be celebrated on the opening day in a peculiar manner. The lamb will be slain. A bird will be sprinkled with blood of the lamb and then loosed in open air to pass over the people. But the lamb will not be sacrificed; it will be eaten.

Dr. Brown who poses as the "Wild African Missionary" will do the preaching. Miss Jessie Brown will give a lecture on "What We Need," and McKinley Brown, who has become noted in some places as a marvel boy singer, will render selections. He is 14 years old. Two thousand people are expected.

A Child's July 4th.

A NEW TACK

Ever since its foundation Charleroi has spent large sums of money in holding demonstrations in order to attract people to the town and to call outside attention to the progressiveness of the community. There were times when these served a useful purpose, but that time has now gone by. By the working out of near-by coal mines, the drift of industry away from the town, and the competition of other towns, the "blow-out" no longer serves its purpose. It costs more than it comes to.

What Charleroi needs now is to work for conditions for the common good, for the welfare of every individual, business interest and industry in the town. It is now the aggregate of decreased operations that is depressing trade and industry. The man whose income is less than it was a year ago naturally spends less than he did among the stores in the town. The man, woman or child who labors and is laid off because of decreased operations is also checked in consumption. The person who has to go out of town to earn a livelihood takes away a certain amount of productiveness that is lost to the community, and even though the worker may still live here the town does not get the full measure of his productiveness and expenditures. The little bit of civic work that has been done in Charleroi this season has attracted more favorable outside comment than any of the public demonstrations ever held. These are on the right tack, and united work for the betterment and uplift of the civic and moral conditions of the town will accomplish infinitely more than "big days" and "blowouts."

THE RIVER BOULEVARD.

By the provisions of the new State Highway law this section will get what is virtually a river boulevard. The various routes that are projected to connect the county seats and the big centers of population with State improved roads embraces most of the route along the Monongahela river from Pittsburg to the Greene county line at least. These provide for roads improved along the river for a distance of thirty-six miles with the exception of eight miles in the horseshoe which includes Donora. This, however may be included by the time the roads are constructed, or the deficiency could be supplied by the township and county with State aid.

This boulevard will be built by the State in the due course of time. It will be one of the most picturesque routes in the State, as well as one of the most useful. Efforts have been made during the past three or four years to get the counties and townships interested to make a move in the direction of getting this river boulevard, but no one took the initiative. Now the State through the recommendation of Governor Tener adopts a State wide plan of road improvements which includes the much desired boulevards. Its completion will be if inestimable benefit to the entire river front from Pittsburg to the West Virginia line.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"One of the most striking examples of thrift I ever witnessed was that of a young Pole who came to this country in order to escape serving in the army," said Postmaster Charles Speers of Speers the other day. "He drifted into Speers and started in to work for us at the sand pit. He was a faithful steady worker, and remained with us several years. His pay was that of an ordinary laborer, never more than $1.75 a day and sometimes less, and one day he announced that he was going to return to his fatherland. Then it was that I learned of his thrift, for he drew $1,000 in cash out of the bank. I afterwards learned that he bought a farm in Poland, and is now a landed proprietor. He was obliged to serve three years in the army after his return, but when his term of service expired he married and is now I suppose independent from his savings accumulated while in America."

"I had a rather remarkable experience last Sunday, at Grafton, West Virginia," said a traveling man at the Wilbur a day or two ago. "I laid over there, and in the morning accepted an invitation to drive several miles out into the country to a picnic. Coming back in the evening we got caught in a terrifice shower and all were not only drenched, but each one of our party was covered with mud from head to foot. I had arranged to spend the evening with my friends, and went up to the hotel to change my clothes. But alas, for human expectancy. Saturday evening I had taken my extra suit of clothes out to have it pressed and when it was returned I left it hanging over the back of a chair in my room. While I was at the picnic the chamermaid moved the chair, clothes and all in front of an open window, and the same rain that drenched us also drenched my extra clothes. When I went upstairs there wasn't a dry thread in them. I was obliged to telephone to my friends that if I spent the evening with them I would have to appear in my pajamas, and the only thing for me to do was to go to bed while the hotel people sent out my clothes to get them dried and pressed."

MONESSEN HOTEL MEN ORGANIZE

The hotel keepers of Monessen have formed an association of Monessen and officers were elected to serve one year in the following persons: J. A. Sheetz, president; L. Dohr, vice president; E. Bonner, treasurer and J. A. Madigan, secretary. The object of the association is to further the hotel business of Monessen and Westmoreland county and to continue to bring Monessen's hotels up to a high standard of efficiency so that the traveling public will be attracted to make that town headquarters when in the upper Monongahela valley.

Parisians drink scarcely any water other than mineral water. The Seine water has a shocking reputation.

John Raphael, Paris correspondent for several London papers, said that one afternoon a pretty actress met her doctor at a dress rehearsal in a boulevard theater.

"Look here," she said, "I am quite sure that all this mineral water I drink, since you have forbidden wine, is dreadfully bad for me. I want your permission to drink filtered Seine water now."

"Very well," replied the doctor, "if you insist. But, mind, you must chew it well."

Champion Egg Layers.

Many insects are extremely prolific. All of the order Hymenoptera, the bees and ants, lay large numbers, but they are easily excelled by the order Plecoptera, the stone flies, one female of which deposits from 5,000 to 6,000 eggs. But the champion egg layers are the insects embraced in the order Isoptera, the white ants. Dr. Howard states that these insects are called white ants because they are not ants and because they are not white, but he further goes on to tell us that the females of some of the African species grow to an enormous size, and their abdomen, swollen with eggs, becomes as big as a large potato. The rate at which the eggs are laid is extraordinary, being about sixty a minute, or 80,000 and upward a day.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

Strong photoplays at the Palace Theatre this week were "The Primal Man" "The King's Daughter," and the "Ways of Women." The story of "The Primal Man" was that of an impecunious society woman who, hard pressed by her creditors, urges her daughter to accept a proposal of marriage from a millionaire who is a boor in manners. To save her mother the daughter accepts, but her whole nature revolts against the sacrifice. Before the wedding the mother and daughter go to the seashore for a brief respite. There the girl meets "the primal man," who is a mate of a tramp schooner. She admires the brute force of the man, and excites in turn his admiration and devotion. While walking with her fiance on the beach the mate knocks down her escort and kidnaps bodily the girl, as well as a minister who happens to be there These he hustles into o boat and rows to the schooner. Aboard the minister performs the marriage ceremony which unites the girl and the primal man, and saves the former from a more distasteful marriage. "The King's Daughter was a mediaeval tale of pillage and love which had a tragic ending Other strong features with the illustrated songs of Louis Brusa served to make delightful bills at the Palace this week.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

Manager Tom B. Cowan presented a good repertoire at the Star Theatre this week, which included "Two Girls," "The Stage Child," "The Devil and a Tin Cup," "At Panther Creek," "Vindicated," "The Minor Chord," "Two Girls in Love With Foolshead," and at "Bar U Ranch." In this was included comedy, tragedy and heart interest enough to satisfy the most discriminating tastes. The afternoon matinees are highly appreciated by out of town shoppers who cannot get to many evening photoplay performances. The evening performances commence at 6 o'clock promptly and are a convenience to out of town people who do not care to stay for later performances.

THE HIPPODROME—PITTSBURG.

It has always been the custom at the Pittsburg Hippodrome in Forbes Field to have an attraction for the week that July 4 falls in that would be something out of the ordinary in amusement. For next week at the Hippodrome the greatest performance of its kind in the world has been booked and it is none other than Hutton's World's Record Race Horses, Chariot Races and Horse-Hound races. In addition, there will be hurdle races and jockey races—which is something that the amusement seker in Pittsburg in the last forty years has not witnessed. In this performance there are fifteen horses, seven men and boys and a number of the fleetest hounds in the country. There is another feature of the race that is probably new, and that is the contest between the horse and the hound. The hurdle races are the real exciting ones because of the barriers that have to be met and surmounted as the horses go speeding along. There are four horses entered in this race and they try to the limit of their endurance to win. The flat or jockey race is the one with which Pittsburgers are most familiar and it is always sure fire for excitement. In all, this is one performance and there will be fifteen other big ones the week of July 3 at the Pittsburg Hippodrome.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

There was an enliving scene on the stage at the Grand Opera House Tuesday, when the members of the Harry Davis Stock company asembled for the first rehearsal of the week. Parts were given out for the production of "Lost—44 Hours," inwhich the organization will appear for twelve consecutive perforfances—two each day—beginning next Monday afternoon. There are so many excellent characters in the cast of "Lost—24 Hours" that each member of the company was delighted with the selection made for him and went at the preliminaries with a gusto seldom in evidence at a first rehearsal. This is the play in which Mr. Robert Hilliard starred prior to his production of "A Fool There Was." Situations of the most ludicrous sort arise from the fact that a certain man has lost twenty-four hours out of his life during a period of somnolency and is wholly unable to account for the events which transpire during his suspended animation. Events accumulate consistently, but in rapid sequence so that they seem to have pyramided ere the denouement arives. The entire Davis company will be included in the cast, and a special new setting will ornament the several scenes of the play.

Mark Antony's Mistake.

At a performance of "Julius Caesar" at Hurst college, England, Mark Antony made a mistake when the dead body of Caesar was brought in. He apostrophized the fallen hero with impassioned eloquence, and the audience felt acutely for the poor citizens, who were all presumably horror struck and overcome with grief, when Antony gently, but firmly, grasped, as he thought, the face cloth and slowly, very slowly, began to draw it back. Just then an excited whisper came from the other end of the corpse, "This end, you fool!" But Antony was inexorably wrapped in grief. He persevered and disclosed to the intently gazing audience Julius Caesar's boots.

MOURNING CUSTOMS.

They Are Very Ancient, and Experts Differ as to Their Origin.

The origin of going into mourning was discussed recently by a body of anthropologists. Some students hold that the wearing of black was originally a disguise assumed as a protection from the dead person's spirit. The idea was that the deceased was naturally disgusted to find himself dead and that he wreaked his resentment upon his relations. Therefore the relations thought that to alter their appearance would be a means of escape, and all over the world veils were used to hide the faces of mourners—a practice still surviving in the impenetrable veil of the widow.

The disguises mourners used—such as the veil, the turning of the clothes inside out and the shaving of the head, as practiced by the Ainos—were simple enough, but supernatural beings were always, it appeared, easy to trick.

Another theory of mourning was that it was put on to warn people that its wearers had been contaminated by death. There was an idea of pollution attached to the great mystery. All early people shared the horror of death and the fear of the return of the spirits. Thus in the Sudan widows sprinkle their food with ashes to prevent their husbands' ghosts from eating it.—Exchange.

"All Things Come."

The magnate looked up impatiently from his work.

"Well, my good man," he snapped at the diffident rural person who stood twirling his rusty hat, "what can I do for you?"

"I guess ye don't remember me, Hank," faltered the caller. "But you an' me use ter go swimmin' together in th' ol' town. Then you got a job in th' bank, an' I got a job in th' grocery store."

"This is all very interesting, and I seem to remember your face. But come to the point—my time is valuable."

"Yes, Hank. You got a better offer and left the old village. I stayed plugging along in th' grocery store."

"Well, well?"

"Well, Hank, when you left you owed $73.62 on a grocery bill. Here's where you pay up!"—Cleveland Leader.

Some Handicaps.

"Sir, I wish to marry your daughter," faltered the young man.

"You do, eh?" exclaimed the fond parent. "Well, I have been rather expecting this, and, to be thoroughly orthodox, I shall put a few questions to you. Do you drink?"

"No, sir. I abhor liquor."

"You do, eh? Smoke?"

"I never use tobacco in any form."

"Well, I didn't suppose you ate it Do you frequent the race tracks?"

"I never saw a horse race in my life, sir."

"Um-m-m! Play cards for money?"

"Emphatically no, sir."

"Well, young man, I must say you are heavily handicapped. My daughter is a thorough society girl, and I can't for the life of me see what she is going to do with you However, it's her funeral, and if she wants to undertake the job—why, God bless you both!"—Washington Post.

Smoothing Trouble at Sea.

"Once, crossing the Atlantic," said an old traveler, "a tremendous row arose among the sailors. They fought down in the forecastle like a pack of wild beasts. Luncheon was going on at the time, and the first officer left the table to see if he could quell the disturbance.

"He had only been gone a little while when the mighty hubbub began to die down. Everything was quiet when he returned. The captain called across the saloon to him in an approving tone:

"'Things seem to be somewhat smoother now.'

"'Yes,' returned the first officer; 'we have ironed the sailors, sir.'"

Robin Redbreast.

The familiar name of "robin redbreast" is now borne in North America by a large red breasted thrush, in the island of Jamaica by a tiny crimson throated kingfisher and in British Guiana by a ground starling which presents the suggestive coloring.

UNCLE SAM.

The Way Our Nickname Is Said to Have Originated.

This familiar nickname for the United States is said to have come about in the following manner:

During the war of 1812 the United States government entered into a contract with Elbert Anderson to furnish supplies to the army. Whenever the United States buys anything from a contractor it appoints an inspector to see that the goods are up to the specifications. In this case the government appointed a man by the name of Samuel Wilson He was a jolly, whole souled man and was familiarly known as Uncle Sam.

It was his duty to inspect every box and cask that came from Elbert Anderson, the contractor, and if the contents were all right the cargo was marked with the letters "E. A.—U. S." the initials of the contractor and of the United States.

The man whose duty it was to do this marking was something of a joker, and when somebody asked him one day what these letters stood for he said that they meant Elbert Anderson and Uncle Sam.

Everybody, including Uncle Sam himself, thought this a very good joke, and by and by it got into print, and before the end of the war it was known all over the country, and that is how the United States received the name of Uncle Sam.—Des Moines Register and Leader

Atrocities Still.

Those of us who have unsuccessfully tried the high placing of framed heirlooms in a modern home will appreciate the remark credited to a woman known to a contributor to "Beautiful Homes."

This woman had hung some peculiarly dreadful ancestral treasures high above average heads in the hope that they would seldom be seen.

"It's no use," she sighed to her husband one day on suddenly entering the room. "They remind me of so many ambitious sopranos. The higher they go the more they scream."

The Sensitive Jester.

"De Wooze seemed to get mad because I didn't laugh at that weazened joke of his."

"Humor him when you can. You see, De Wooze is the sort of humorist that expects somebody to smash the bass drum every time he chortles a pun."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

DRAWS OUT POISON

Marvelous Antiseptic that Draws Glass, Wood and Needles from The Flesh.

There never was known such a powerful drawing ointment as San Cura. Wherever it has been used it has created astonishment. It drew a needle out of the foot of the daughter of Mrs James Hitchcock, of Centerville, Pa., after the doctor had used his lance and failed.

Nothing so healing or antiseptic can be purchased today. It possesses so much healing virtue that it is guaranteed by W. F. Hennings' to quickly cure any kind of piles, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, boils, carbuncles, ulcers, all kinds of chronic sores, chillblains, and chapped hands or money back.

It's a mighty handy remedy to have in the house in emergencies such as bruises, burns, cuts or scalds, because it kills the pain onstantly. It's medicine chest in itself—a little family physician that is ever in demand. 25c and 50 c a jar at W. F. Hennings.'

Best Skin Soap.

Is San Cura Soap, because of its great antiseptic and healing virtues. Use it regularly, and it will make the skin soft and velvety; will remove pimples and blackheads. It's the real soap for babies' tender skin, which mothers of infants should remember. 25 cents a large cake at W. F. Hennings.'

Twist of the Pretzel.

The pretzel is capable of infinite possibilities in the matter of shape. It shows almost as many forms as do the leaves of trees. The construction of the pretzel may be not inaptly described in sailor terms. Its peculiar shape is attained in this way: A bight is taken in a roll of dough, and the ends are given a half twist and brought back upon the opposite sides of the bight. This process gives to the pretzel a heart shaped appearance, but no one ever ventured to hint that any sentimental reason existed for assigning this shape to such a prosaic thing as a pretzel. When the pretzel has been duly "varnished" it is subjected to a process of salting, and the thing is complete.—Harper's.

Relented.

"Peggy," said Sandy—"Ah'm sayin', Peggy, will Ah kiss yer cheek?"

"If ye dae Ah'll skreich."

"Oh," said Sandy, "dinna skreich."

"An' don't ye kiss me on the mooth, then," said Peggy, "for if ye did Ah couldnt skreich at all."—Boston Post.

A STEADY DRAIN

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make You Ill, Languid And Depressed.

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life—giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills..

Mrs B. Mahoney, 823 McKean Ave., Charleroi, Pa., says: "For a long time a member of our family compained of pains in the small of the back. Spider Thread Clothes.

In the thread of the spider lies dormant a great industry once it is properly studied. Numerous attempts have been made to utilize the threads for cloth to make clothes, etc. All have been so far doomed to failure—anyhow, as a financial proposition. It is related that Louis XIV. had a dress made from spider's web which was so fragile that he became disgusted with it. The entomologist D'Orbigny had made for himself a pair of trousers from the webs of tropical spiders, which lasted for a long time.—Popular Magazine.

CHRISTIANS WIN WITH TWO DOWN IN THE EIGHTH

Takes Eight Innings to Defeat Strong First Presbyterians

FIVE HITS ON EACH SIDE

In another one of those extra inning affairs at the ball grounds Friday night the Christians won from the First Presbyterians by the score of 5 to 4. There were lots of features. The Presbyterians tied up maters in the seventh after the Christians had apparently established matters precisely their own way.

The Christians got their first score in the first inning. Mathers contracted a walk, went second on an out and completed the circuit on a single. In the second Vernom got hit, and was safe at second on an error. Furnier was let go first on a fielder's choice. A two bagger by Mathers brought both in. In the third Buchanan singled and was sacrificed to second going third on an out to score on a single.

One was brought in by the Presbyterians in the third inning. Schmidt was safe on an error, stole second, and came home on an error. Schmidt singled in the seventh and Provance scored him by a double. Wilson fanned. Berry was safe on an error on which Provance scored. McGowan singled, Berry scored on an error of the middle fielders.

In the eighth Dunmire was hit. Vernom sacrificed. Kiefer then pulled off a nice single to left and brought in the winning run. Score:

BASEBALL BINGLES

Provance wasn't quite ready to hit the ball when it left the pitcher's hands in the seventh when he batted for Osborne, but all the same he swiped it a mighty swipe.

* * *

The first hit off Kiefer came in the sixth when Wagner singled.

* * *

Kiefer pitched a good game, allowing but five hits, only one of which was for an extra base. Osborne twirled well but was unfortunate at the start-off.

* * *

Wagner pulled off some sensational stunts in the way of stealing bases. He only got four of the six credited to the First Presbyterians.

* * *

The Christians played a better inside game than they have for weeks.

* * *

Schmidt, with a German name and a German atmosphere, was all the same hitting them when they came over. He didn't know what it was to strike out and got two nice singles.

A Joke and a Law.

Tradition is that the habeas corpus act was put on the English statute books as the outcome of a joke at the expense of a bulky lord. It was in the final division in the house of lords, and Lord Grey and Lord Norris were appointed tellers. Lord Norris was not attentive to his duties, and when a very fat lord came in Lord Grey counted the obese person for ten, at first as a joke; but, seeing Lord Norris had not observed, the other noble lord went on with the miscount. By that means, says Bishop Burnet, a sufficient number of votes was secured, and the bill was passed. Long afterward the American colonists took over the act from England.

ENGINEERS LAY OFF THE GROUND

Scrap at Eldora Tuesday to be According to Military Ethies

Engineers have surveyed and mapped out the grounds for the sham battle at Eldora Park on the Fourth. The attack and defence is planned according to regular military tactics, and all the manoeuvers will be carried out as if the Uncle Sam's troops were repelling an attack from the Mexicans. A large quantity of blank cartridges have been ordered, and there will be noise and powder smoke enough to make the battle most exciting. It is probable that the Charleroi Brigade will camp on the grounds, in order to have all arrangements completed for the battle in the afternoon.

As previously stated, two balloon ascensions will be made at the park tomorrow, at 3 and 8 o'clock in the afternoon. A bran new balloon has been received by the balloonist, who will make his first ascension in it tomorrow.

TENER IN PITTSBURG

Governor There to Attend Athletic Event and Enjoy Himself

NO SHOP TALK FOR HIM

Governor J. K.Tener is in Pittsburg at the Fort Pitt. He registered last night in company with his secretary Walter H. Gaithere and Mrs. Gaither and will today be the guest of Colonel O. S. Hershmann, one of his staff officers at the athletic games at Forbes Field.

When the Governor arrived in Pittsburg last night the hotel people began to prepare a Gubernatorial feed but the Executive eye caught sight of a little informal gathering in the Dutch room that changed to some extent the hotel's culinary program. That is to say, the Governor saw Representative George E. Alter of the Northside about to preside over a dinner party. Mr. Alter's guests were Senator David Hunter, Secreatry of the Commonwealth Robert McAfee, Representative Wiliam J. Connor of Braddock and Warden John Francis of Riverside.

Would the Governor sit in? He would and he did—at the head of the table, by the way, with W. H. Gaither at his left. The Governor was as full of fun as a recess class. He denied instanter that he was going to put the shot at the Forbes Field meet, nor was he going to hurl the javelin; neither was he going to run in any of the dashes. "Politics?" Well, he had heard that word before; but what has politics to do with a half dozen men rushing for the 100-yard tape? he asked.

No, the Governor said that he was in Pittsburg on a social visit and nothing more. There will be no conferences, he said; no powwows, no "shop talk" of any sort. On Sunday he will probably visit his brother, George E. Tener of Sewickley. After this visit he will likely take the first train going East.

M'ILVAINE IS BOOMED

President Judge Mentioned as President of Morganza Board

HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

Was Established and Opened for Inmates in the Early Fifties

With the re-appoinment of Judge J. A. McIlvaine on the board of managers of the Western Pennsylvania Industrial School at Moranza a movement has been started by some of his friends to have him elected president of the board inasmuch as the former president, Major Happer, was not reappointed. Judge McIlvaine, however, does not seek this honor himself, and before the reappointment by Governor Tener he wrote the Governor asking that his name be omitted when the new board was appointed. Judge McIlvaine was a member of the old board, having been appointed several years ago by Governor Stuart. Governor Tener, however replied to Judge McIlvaine that he must not think of quitting the board, and that he had no intention of letting him go at this time as his presence was needed on the board of school managers.

Ever since his appointment by Governor Stuart Judge McIlvaine has taken a deep interest in the Industrial Training School at Morganza, and has established a record by never being absent from any of its meetings regular or special. It was the deep interest that Judge McIlvaine manifested in the institution, and the willingness with which he devoted his time to the many arduous duties connected with the management of the school that has prompted his friends to call attention to him as the proper man to head the new board. They are confident that he would fill the place with honor and distinction. A meeting for reorganization will probably be held the first Monday in July.

The House of Refuge of Western Pennsylvania was incorporated Act of April 22, 1850, and located in Allegheny City. It opened for inmates December 13, 1854. The name was changed to the Pennsylvania Reform School by the Act of March 20, 1872, and December 12, 1876, the institution was removed to its present location the old Morgan estate. Only recently the word "reform' 'was dropped from the official title of this institution owing to its misconception by many people and the title changed to "Western Pennsylvania Industrial School." The title to the institution was transferred to the State of Pennsylvania October 3, 1878, and the buildings cost $599.019.43. The expenditures in 1908 were $157,012.91 and the earnings were $11,379.11.

W. F. Penn is superintendent of the institution, having been elected last April for a term of one year. He has been superintendent for several years.

PITTSBURG STEEL COMPANY TO STOP WORK TWO WEEKS

Brief Suspension of Monessen Plant During Hot Summer Weather

The announcement coming officially from General George Nash relative to the summer vacation of the Pittsburg Steel mills at Monessen is to the effect that the shut down will be of a very short duration. Notices were posted in the mill Friday to the effect that the mill will close in all departments on July 1st. The open hearth department will start up on the morning of July 10th and all other departments will follow.

This will likely be the only vacation employes of this industry will get during the summer. It has been the custom to close the mill from two to four weeks during the hot months but this year it will be cut short and all departments will be kept running through the summer.

BLAZE HARD TO BATTLE

Fire This Morning Only Inflicts Slight Damage

FIREMEN DO HARD WORK

When at 11 o'clock this morning flames were discovered issuing from the windows of the dwelling house occupied by Jacob Schwartz at 505 Seventh street, the firemen were called upon to fight one of the most tedious although not dangerous fires they have had experience with for some time. The building is owned by Andrew Clavir of East Pittsburg. Damage all told probably will not be more than $100 or $125, the most of which will be to the interior of the building. Insurance was carried by Mr. Clavier and Mr. Schwartz had insurance on his furniture.

The fire was a tedious one to fight owing to the fact that it was confined to the partitions and walls, where access could not be easily gained. It was not hard to control and chemicals were used entirely to extinguish the blaze.

LAMB PASSOVER TO BE OBSERVED

Uuique Custom to be Followed at Campmeeting This Month

Beginning the second Sunday in July campmeeting will be held at the Belle Vernon Driving Park by colored people, and a rather sensational feature, a "Lamb Passover," is promised. The campmeeting will last from the second Sunday in July until July 16 inclusive.

The Lamb Passover will be celebrated on the opening day in a peculiar manner. The lamb will be slain. A bird will be sprinkled with blood of the lamb and then loosed in open air to pass over the people. But the lamb will not be sacrificed; it will be eaten.

Dr. Brown who poses as the "Wild African Missionary" will do the preaching. Miss Jessie Brown will give a lecture on "What We Need," and McKinley Brown, who has become noted in some places as a marvel boy singer, will render selections. He is 14 years old. Two thousand people are expected.

A NEW TACK

Ever since its foundation Charleroi has spent large sums of money in holding demonstrations in order to attract people to the town and to call outside attention to the progressiveness of the community. There were times when these served a useful purpose, but that time has now gone by. By the working out of near-by coal mines, the drift of industry away from the town, and the competition of other towns, the "blow-out" no longer serves its purpose. It costs more than it comes to.

What Charleroi needs now is to work for conditions for the common good, for the welfare of every individual business interest and industry in the town. It is now the aggregate of decreased operations that is depressing trade and industry. The man whose income is less than it was a year ago naturally spends less than he did among the stores in the town. The man, woman or child who labors [illegible] operations is also checked in consumption. The person who has to go out of town to earn a livelihood takes away a certain amount of productiveness that is lost to the community, and even though the worker may still live here the town does not get the full measure of his productiveness and expenditures. The little bit of civic work that has been done in Charleroi this season has attracted more favorable outside comment than any of the public demonstrations ever held. These are on the right tack, and united work for the betterment and uplift of the civic and moral conditions of the town will accomplish infinitely more than "big days" and "blowouts."

THE RIVER BOULEVARD.

By the provisions of the new State Highway law this section will get what is virtually a river boulevard. The various routes that are projected to connect the county seats and the big centers of population with State improved roads embraces most of the route along the Monongahela river from Pittsburg to the Greene county line at least. These provide for roads improved along the river for a distance of thirty-six miles with the exception of eight miles in the horseshoe which includes Donora. This, however may be included by the time the roads are constructed, or the deficiency could be supplied by the township and county with State aid.

This boulevard will be built by the State in the due course of time. It will be one of the most picturesque routes in the State, as well as one of the most useful. Efforts have been made during the past three or four years to get the counties and townships interested to make a move in the direction of getting this river boulevard, but no one took the initiative. Now the State through the recommendation of Governor Tener adopts a State wide plan of road improvements which includes the much desired boulevards. Its completion will be if inestimable benefit to the entire river front from Pittsburg to the West Virginia line.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"One of the most striking examples of thrift I ever witnessed was that of a young Pole who came to this country in order to escape serving in the army," said Postmaster Charles Speers of Speers the other day. "He drifted into Speers and started in to work for us at the sand pit. He was a faithful steady worker, and remained with us several years. His pay was that of an ordinary laborer, never more than $1.75 a day and sometimes less, and one day he announced that he was going to return to his fatherland. Then it was that I learned of his thrift, for he drew $1,000 in cash out of the bank. I afterwards learned that he bought a farm in Poland, and is now a landed proprietor. He was obliged to serve three years in the army after his return, but when his term of service expired he married and is now I suppose independent from his savings accumulated while in America."

"I had a rather remarkable experience last Sunday, at Grafton, West Virginia," said a traveling man at the Wilbur a day or two ago. "I laid over there, and in the morning accepted an invitation to drive several miles out into the country to a picnic. Coming back in the evening we got caught in a terrific shower and all were not only drenched, but each one of our party was covered with mud from head to foot. I had arranged to spend the evening with my friends, and went up to the hotel to change my clothes. But alas, for human expectancy. Saturday evening I had taken my extra suit of clothes out to have it pressed and when it was returned I left it hanging over the back of a chair in my room. While I was at the picnic the chamermaid moved the chair, clothes and all in front of an open window, and the same rain that drenched us also drenched my extra clothes. When I went upstairs there wasn't a dry thread in them. I was obliged to telephone to my friends that if I spent the evening with them I would have to appear in my pajamas, and the only thing for me to do was to go to bed while the hotel people sent out my clothes to get them dried and pressed."

MONESSEN HOTEL MEN ORGANIZE

The hotel keepers of Monessen have formed an asociation of Monessen and officers were elected to serve one year in the following persons: J. A. Sheetz, president; L. Dohr, vice president; E. Bonner, treasurer and J. A. Madigan, secretary. The object of the association is to further the hotel business of Monessen and Westmoreland county and to continue to bring Monessen's hotels up to a high standard of efficiency so that the traveling public will be attracted to make that town headquarters when in the upper Monongahela valley.

Parisians drink scarcely any water other than mineral water. The Seine water has a shocking reputation.

John Raphael, Paris correspondent for several London papers, said that one afternoon a pretty actress met her doctor at a dress rehearsal in a boulevard theater.

"Look here," she said, "I am quite sure that all this mineral water I drink, since you have forbidden wine, is dreadfully bad for me. I want your permission to drink filtered Seine water now."

"Very well," replied the doctor, "if you insist. But, mind, you must chew it well."

Champion Egg Layers.

Many insects are extremely prolific. All of the order Hymenoptera, the bees and ants, lay large numbers, but they are easily excelled by the order Plecoptera, the stone flies, one female of which deposits from 5,000 to 6,000 eggs. But the champion egg layers are the insects embraced in the order Isoptera, the white ants. Dr. Howard states that these insects are called white ants because they are not ants and because they are not white, but he further goes on to tell us that the females of some of the African species grow to an enormous size, and their abdomen, swollen with eggs, becomes as big as a large potato. The rate at which the eggs are laid is extraordinary, being about sixty a minute, or 80,000 and upward a day.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

Strong photoplays at the Palace Theatre this week were "The Primal Man" "The King's Daughter," and the "Ways of Women." The story of "The Primal Man" was that of an impecunious society woman who, hard pressed by her creditors, urges her daughter to accept a proposal of marriage from a millionaire who is a boor in manners. To save her mother the daughter accepts, but her whole nature revolts against the sacrifice. Before the wedding the mother and daughter go to the seashore for a brief respite. There the girl meets "the primal man," who is a mate of a tramp schooner. She admires the brute force of the man, and excites in turn his admiration and devotion. While walking with her fiance on the beach the mate knocks down her escort and kidnaps bodily the girl, as well as a minister who happens to be there These he hustles into o boat and rows to the schooner. Aboard the minister performs the marriage ceremony which unites the girl and the primal man, and saves the former from a more distasteful marriage. "The King's Daughter was a mediaeval tale of pillage and love which had a tragic ending Other strong features with the illustrated songs of Louis Brusa served to make delightful bills at the Palace this week.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

Manager Tom B. Cowan presented a good repertoire at the Star Theatre this week, which included "Two Girls," "The Stage Child," "The Devil & a Tin Cup," "At Panther Creek," "Vindicated," "The Minor Chord," "Two Girls in Love With Foolshead," and at "Bar U Ranch." In this was included comedy, tragedy and heart interest enough to satisfy the most discriminating tastes. The afternoon matinees are highly appreciated by out of town shoppers who cannot get to many evening photoplay performances. The evening performances commence at 6 o'clock promptly and are a convenience to out of town people who do not care to stay for later performances.

THE HIPPODROME—PITTSBURG.

It has always been the custom at the Pittsburg Hippodrome in Forbes Field to have an attraction for the week that July 4 falls in that would be something out of the ordinary in amusement. For next week at the Hippodrome the greatest performance of its kind in the world has been booked and it is none other than Hutton's World's Record Race Horses, Chariot Races and Horse-Hound races. In addition, there will be hurdle races and jockey races—which is something that the amusement seker in Pittsburg in the last forty years has not witnessed. In this performance there are fifteen horses, seven men and boys and a number of the fleetest hounds in the country. There is another feature of the race that is probably new, and that is the contest between the horse and the hound. The hurdle races are the real exciting ones because of the barriers that have to be met and surmounted as the horses go speeding along. There are four horses entered in this race and they are to the limit of their endurance to win. The flat or jockey race is the one with which Pittsburgers are most familiar and it is always sure fire for excitement. In all, this is one performance and there will be fifteen other big ones the week of July 3 at the Pittsburg Hippodrome.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

There was an enliving scene on the stage at the Grand Opera House Tuesday, when the members of the Harry Davis Stock company asembled for the first rehearsal of the week. Parts were given out for the production of "Lost—44 Hours," inwhich the organization will appear for twelve consecutive perforfances—two each day—beginning next Monday afternoon. There are so many excellent characters in the cast of "Lost—24 Hours" that each member of the company was delighted with the selection made for him and went at the preliminaries with a gusto seldom in evidence at a first rehearsal. This is the play in which Mr. Robert Hilliard starred prior to his production of "A Fool There Was." Situations of the most ludicrous sort arise from the fact that a certain man has lost twenty-four hours out of his life during a period of somnolency and is wholly unable to account for the events which transpire during his suspended animation. Events accumulate consistently, but in rapid sequence so that they seem to have pyramided ere the denouement arives. The entire Davis company will be included in the cast, and a special new setting will ornament the several scenes of the play.

Mark Antony's Mistake.

At a performance of "Julius Caesar" at Hurst college, England, Mark Antony made a mistake when the dead body of Caesar was brought in. He apostrophized the fallen hero with impassioned eloquence, and the audience felt acutely for the poor citizens, who were all presumably horror struck and overcome with grief, when Antony gently, but firmly, grasped, as he thought, the face cloth and slowly, very slowly, began to draw it back. Just then an excited whisper came from the other end of the corpse, "This end, you fool!" But Antony was inexorably wrapped in grief. He persevered and disclosed to the intently gazing audience Julius Caesar's boots.

MOURNING CUSTOMS.

They Are Very Ancient, and Experts Differ as to Their Origin.

The origin of going into mourning was discussed recently by a body of anthropologists. Some students hold that the wearing of black was originally a disguise assumed as a protection from the dead person's spirit. The idea was that the deceased was naturally disgusted to find himself dead and that he wreaked his resentment upon his relations. Therefore the relations thought that to alter their appearance would be a means of escape, and all over the world veils were used to hide the faces of mourners—a practice still surviving in the impenetrable veil of the widow.

The disguises mourners used—such as the veil, the turning of the clothes inside out and the shaving of the head, as practiced by the Ainos—were simple enough, but supernatural beings were always, it appeared, easy to trick.

Another theory of mourning was that it was put on to warn people that its wearers had been contaminated by death. There was an idea of pollution attached to the great mystery. All early people shared the horror of death and the fear of the return of the spirits. Thus in the Sudan widows sprinkle their food with ashes to prevent their husbands' ghosts from eating it.—Exchange.

"All Things Come."

The magnate looked up impatiently from his work.

"Well, my good man," he snapped at the diffident rural person who stood twirling his rusty hat, "what can I do for you?"

"I guess ye don't remember me, Hank," faltered the caller. "But you an' me use ter go swimmin' together in th' ol' town. Then you got a job in th' bank, an' I got a job in th' grocery store."

"This is all very interesting, and I seem to remember your face. But come to the point—my time is valuable."

"Yes, Hank. You got a better offer and left the old village. I stayed plugging along in th' grocery store."

"Well, well?"

"Well, Hank, when you left you owed $73.62 on a grocery bill. Here's where you pay up!"—Cleveland Leader.

Some Handicaps.

"Sir, I wish to marry your daughter," faltered the young man.

"You do, eh?" exclaimed the fond parent. "Well, I have been rather expecting this, and, to be thoroughly orthodox, I shall put a few questions to you. Do you drink?"

"No, sir. I abhor liquor."

"You do, eh? Smoke?"

"I never use tobacco in any form."

"Well, I didn't suppose you ate it. Do you frequent the race tracks?"

"I never saw a horse race in my life, sir."

"Um-m-m! Play cards for money?"

"Emphatically no, sir."

"Well, young man, I must say you are heavily handicapped. My daughter is a thorough society girl, and I can't for the life of me see what she is going to do with you. However, it's her funeral, and if she wants to undertake the job—why, God bless you both!"—Washington Post.

Smoothing Trouble at Sea.

"Once, crossing the Atlantic," said an old traveler, "a tremendous row arose among the sailors. They fought down in the forecastle like a pack of wild beasts. Luncheon was going on at the time, and the first officer left the table to see if he could quell the disturbance.

"He had only been gone a little while when the mighty hubbub began to die down. Everything was quiet when he returned. The captain called across the saloon to him in an approving tone:

"'Things seem to be somewhat smoother now.'

"'Yes,' returned the first officer; 'we have ironed the sailors, sir.'"

Robin Redbreast.

The familiar name of "robin redbreast" is now borne in North America by a large red breasted thrush, in the island of Jamaica by a tiny crimson throated kingfisher and in British Guiana by a ground starling which presents the suggestive coloring.

UNCLE SAM.

The Way Our Nickname Is Said to Have Originated.

This familiar nickname for the United States is said to have come about in the following manner:

During the war of 1812 the United States government entered into a contract with Elbert Anderson to furnish supplies to the army. Whenever the United States buys anything from a contractor it appoints an inspector to see that the goods are up to the specifications. In this case the government appointed a man by the name of Samuel Wilson. He was a jolly, whole souled man and was familiarly known as Uncle Sam.

It was his duty to inspect every box and cask that came from Elbert Anderson, the contractor, and if the contents were all right the cargo was marked with the letters "E. A.—U. S." the initials of the contractor and of the United States.

The man whose duty it was to do this marking was something of a joker, and when somebody asked him one day what these letters stood for he said that they meant Elbert Anderson and Uncle Sam.

Everybody, including Uncle Sam himself, thought this a very good joke, and by and by it got into print, and before the end of the war it was known all over the country, and that is how the United States received the name of Uncle Sam.—Des Moines Register and Leader.

Atrocities Still.

Those of us who have unsuccessfully tried the high placing of framed heirlooms in a modern home will appreciate the remark credited to a woman known to a contributor to "Beautiful Homes."

This woman had hung some peculiarly dreadful ancestral treasures high above average heads in the hope that they would seldom be seen.

"It's no use," she sighed to her husband one day on suddenly entering the room. "They remind me of so many ambitious sopranos. The higher they go the more they scream."

The Sensitive Jester.

"De Wooze seemed to get mad because I didn't laugh at that weazened joke of his."

"Humor him when you can. You see, De Wooze is the sort of humorist that expects somebody to smash the bass drum every time he chortles a pun."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

DRAWS OUT POISON

Marvelous Antiseptic that Draws Glass, Wood and Needles from The Flesh.

There never was known such a powerful drawing ointment as San Cura. Wherever it has been used it has created astonishment. It drew a needle out of the foot of the daughter of Mrs James Hitchcock, of Centerville, Pa., after the doctor had used his lance and failed.

It's a mighty handy remedy to have in the house in emergencies such as bruises, burns, cuts or scalds, because it kills the pain onstantly. It's medicine chest in itself—a little family physician that is ever in demand. 25c and 50 c a jar at W. F. Hennings.'

Twist of the Pretzel.

The pretzel is capable of infinite possibilities in the matter of shape. It shows almost as many forms as do the leaves of trees. The construction of the pretzel may be not inaptly described in sailor terms. Its peculiar shape is attained in this way: A bight is taken in a roll of dough, and the ends are given a half twist and brought back upon the opposite sides of the bight. This process gives to the pretzel a heart shaped appearance, but no one ever ventured to hint that any sentimental reason existed for assigning this shape to such a prosaic thing as a pretzel. When the pretzel has been duly "varnished" it is subjected to a process of salting, and the thing is complete.—Harper's.

A STEADY DRAIN

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make You Ill, Languid And Depressed.

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life—giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. B. Mahoney, 823 McKean Ave., Charleroi, Pa., says: "For a long time a member of our family complained of pains in the small of the back. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised, a box was procured at Piper Bros., Drug Store and their use begun. They brought such great relief that I do not hesitate to recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

Spider Thread Clothes.

In the thread of the spider lies dormant a great industry once it is properly studied Numerous attempts have been made to utilize the threads for cloth to make clothes, etc. All have been so far doomed to failure—anyhow, as a financial proposition It is related that Louis XIV. had a dress made from spider's web which was so fragile that be became disgusted with it. The entomologist D'Orbigny had made for himself a pair of trousers from the webs of tropical spiders, which lasted for a long time.—Popular Magazine.

CHRISTIANS WIN WITH TWO DOWN IN THE EIGHTH

Takes Eight Innings to Defeat Strong First Presbyterians

FIVE HITS ON EACH SIDE

In another one of those extra inning affairs at the ball grounds Friday night the Christians won from the First Presbyterians by the score of 5 to 4. There were lots of features. The Presbyterians tied up maters in the seventh after the Christians had apparently established matters precisely their own way.

The Christians got their first score in the first inning. Mathers contracted a walk, went second on an out and completed the circuit on a single In the second Vernom got hit, and was safe at second on an error. Furnier was let go first on a fielder's choice. A two bagger by Mathers brought both in. In the third Buchanan singled and was sacrificed to second going third on an out to score on a single

One was brought in by the Presbyterians in the third inning Schmidt was safe on an error, stole second, and came home on an error. Schmidt singled in the seventh and Provance scored him by a double. Wilson fanned Berry was safe on an error on which Provance scored McGowan singled. Berry scored on an error of the middle fielders.

In the eighth Dunmire was hit Vernom sacrificed. Kiefer then pulled off a nice single to left and brought in the winning run Score:

A Joke and a Law.

Tradition is that the habeas corpus act was put on the English statute books as the outcome of a joke at the expense of a bulky lord. It was in the final division in the house of lords, and Lord Grey and Lord Norris were appointed tellers. Lord Norris was not attentive to his duties and when a very fat lord came in Lord Grey counted the obese person for ten, at first as a joke; but, seeing Lord Norris had not observed, the other noble lord went on with the miscount. By that means, says Bishop Burnet, a sufficient number of votes was secured, and the bill was passed. Long afterward the American colonists took over the act from England.

ENGINEERS LAY OFF THE GROUND

Scrap at Eldora Tuesday to be According to Military Ethies

Engineers have surveyed and mapped out the grounds for the sham battle at Eldora Park on the Fourth. The attack and defence is planned according to regular military tactics, and all the manoeuvers will be carried out as if the Uncle Sam's troops were repelling an attack from the Mexicans. A large quantity of blank cartridges have been ordered, and there will be noise and powder smoke enough to make the battle most exciting. It is probable that the Charleroi Brigade will camp on the grounds, in order to have all arrangements completed for the battle in the afternoon.

As previously stated, two balloon ascensions will be made at the park tomorrow, at 3 and 8 o'clock in the afternoon. A bran new balloon has been received by the balloonist, who will make his first ascension in it tomorrow.
